supporting students in hospitality, leisure and tourism

Introducing the Education Membership Scheme
Introducing the Institute of Hospitality

From hoteliers, restaurateurs and contract caterers, to technology providers, the armed forces and government, the Institute’s members embrace a multitude of disciplines. We are united by a common goal to promote professionalism, best practice and reputation in hospitality, leisure and tourism.

At the Institute of Hospitality, you’re in good company. We understand that your choice of study is the vital first step in qualifying as a hospitality professional. We’re proud to offer the leading qualifications of choice for many of the industry’s top employers. The chances are your manager will themselves have qualified via our route and so appreciate those that follow. But it doesn’t stop there. The Institute is also the professional network of choice for thousands of the hospitality industry’s most inspirational talents.

We’ve been the industry’s leading network, helping to grow talent and accelerate professional development for more than 70 years. Ours is the respected interface between education and industry for the development, mobility and recruitment of skilled labour in hospitality, leisure and tourism.

Helping to grow talent.

Education Membership Scheme (EMS)

The scheme provides hospitality, leisure and tourism students with free membership to the Institute as well as access to many member benefits including the Institute’s specialist e-resources. Only accredited and recognised providers of hospitality, leisure and tourism programmes have the opportunity to subscribe to the Education Membership Scheme and offer the range of benefits to assist students in their studies and career decisions.

The scheme provides access to a unique collection of e-books, e-journals and Institute resources.

Contact us or ask your tutors to see if you have access.
The benefits

EMS students can access the following benefits

EMS Student Membership
Many students first affiliation with the global professional body supporting HLT students and managers.

e-Resources Collection
A wide selection of world-class e-books and e-journals are available in a single, easy to search platform. The titles are from top publishers and cover essential hospitality, leisure, and tourism texts as well as business, career development and research and writing.

Online Catalogue
Electronic materials such as e-books, electronic reports and archival materials.

Enquiry Service
Staffed by professionally qualified subject specialist librarians who can assist with reference questions.

e-publications
Students can freely access the Institute’s proprietary publications: Hospitality magazine, and Institute of Hospitality Management Guides.

e-news
Our monthly e-news, insight: current news and trends such as industry events, training and development, finance and resources, people and management. Know-how e-news provides further free resources to support your learning.

EMS Blog
A regularly updated blog with information, news and profiles for EMS students and teaching staff (iohems.blogspot.com). The Institute can also be followed on twitter (@IoH_Online).

CPD tool
An exclusive member benefit, this tool facilitates the tracking and documentation of continuing professional development and learning activities and is helpful when writing a CV.

Document Delivery Service
Hard copy Online Catalogue materials may be ordered at a specially reduced student rate.

Privileges
Discounts on a range of useful products and services with its own student section (please note UK only).

For more information, see over on how to contact the Institute and to register.
How to register as a student

- To access all your benefits you must first obtain your university or college EMS login reference code and password - contact your tutor or specialist librarian
- Go to www.instituteofhospitality.org
- Go to "Login" on the homepage. Insert your reference code in the email field and the password. Click "Go"
- Submit your personal details
- We will send you a personal membership number and login details via email

Contact us

Students:
For information on these benefits

University/College:
For information on how to apply and to request an EMS application form

Institute of Hospitality
Trinity Court
34 West Street
Sutton
Surrey SM1 1SH

+44 (0)20 8661 4900
library@instituteofhospitality.org
www.instituteofhospitality.org